8 ways to support children struggling in lockdown CAMHS NHS HIGHLAND	8 WAYS TO HELP CHILDREN STRUGGLING DURING LOCKDOWN <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 Know how to spot the signs If you notice your child is becoming withdrawn, that there's been a change in sleeping or eating habits, if they seem to lack confidence or get upset, it might be a sign they're struggling. 2 Talk to your child If you spot signs your child might be struggling, it's important to talk to them. Keep talking and trying to communicate in any way you can - hugging, listening to them, texting them. 3 Create structure and routine Try introducing a rota or loose timetable that includes fun things you're doing during the week. This can help to create a feeling of stability, which can alleviate anxiety. 4 Give children a sense of control through information Look online with your children to find useful information and resources that help children feel they have control. 5 Keep children learning Using fun and creative ways at home to learn alongside continued access to educational opportunities will support your children's development. 6 Limit screen time and mix up activities As most socialising moves online, it's important to have conversations on how an increase in screen time can have an impact on everyone's mental health and self-esteem. 7 Help your child manage stress If you spot signs your child might be struggling, it's important to talk to them. Keep talking and trying to communicate in any way you can - hugging, listening to them, texting them, etc. 8 Expressing feelings doesn't have to be face-to-face Children might find it easier writing their thoughts down, so the whole family could do this and put them in a 'feelings box' and then talk about their good, sad or difficult feelings at the end of the day.
